Marriage, the Sexual Act and the Rose-Cross Secret

Married Disciples who have achieved the exercising of the sexual functions as a sacred act or as a religious operation in their matrimony, have obtained a great advantage, since, both beings, in this way, can mutually help each other. In general, each one of our Disciples must have a spouse in order to perform the duties of a marriage, but up to now they have done nothing but squander their values, and even life itself, when they could have gained eternal youth.

Let us not forget that the sensation of coitus is much too short, enough to lead the performer to boredom, apathy, and annoyance like a form of sickening sadness and often we must force ourselves to become magnetically charged in order to feel the romantic attraction for each other. Ovid has already said: “Post coitum omnia animalia tristia”, which means: "All animals are sad after intercourse." Animals only seek for the final goal of impregnation at the precise time in which the female is in heat and demands to be fertilized, but man (the sublime animal, but potentially angelic being) is the only one who repeats this function every day in order to go about slowly draining himself of his values and he does so without consciousness.

Catalysis is what we call an accelerating action that exercises certain substances upon other substances in order to increase or decrease the speed of their chemical reactions. If we transfer this idea of catalysis to the field of parapsychism, then we can already begin to count on the verification of the sexual functions as an exchange of their forces. The Pelvis in women, pours feminine currents, while the breasts give masculine currents. In men, the radical feminine current is in the mouth and the masculine current is in his virile member. All these organs, as a consequence, must be excited with the purpose of giving and receiving, transmitting and collecting, and then one should provoke the currents more and more that are now flowing, looking for quantity and quality.

Dancing and kissing (which put the couple in intimate contact with each other) are none other than an intuitive manifestation in order to achieve this Magnetization between man and woman. Before, in the Initiations of ancient Mexico, young people of both sexes united for months, completely naked, who were allowed to mutually embrace each other without ever reaching orgasm. The awakened passion must be dominated so that once all the glandular juices are in their zenith, they can be transmuted into spiritual force.

Our Disciples, who are in Rose Cross marriages, should ignore what others do and keep this secret so that we are the privileged, the supermen, those of character. This seems to be a selfish act, but certain Keys should not be disclosed to people who are going through a purely materialized life and have not done the Rose Cross practices. Instead of coitus which reaches orgasm, one should reflexively lavish one’s partner with sweet caresses, amorous phrases and delicate touching, maintaining the mind constantly separated from animal sexuality, sustaining the most pure spirituality, as if the act were a true religious ceremony.

Nevertheless the man can and must introduce the penis and maintain it in the feminine sexual organ, so that for both of them a divine sensation, full of joy, ensues (which can last for hours) withdrawing at the moment in which the spasm approaches in order to avoid the ejaculation of the semen. In this way, each time they will have a greater yearning to caress each other. This is the Magical Key in order to be rejuvenated daily, to keep the body healthy and to prolong life, since it is a source of health with this constant Magnetization.

Scorpio, the Sexual Organs and the 'Steed' of Life

We have arrived at the last Glands of the Septenary: Scorpio is the action and function of the sexual organs, whose passional power can only be compared with a lively steed who pulls the chariot of our life. While we have our hands firmly on the reins of this steed, we can dominate it while hopping and jumping and infuriating the proud, but the day that these reins are gone, the animal runs wild and goes off at a full gallop, turning our chariot around and dragging us through the rocks and the mud of the road until we are exhausted and dead. We started with the Pineal gland and by recommending the path of Light, Love, Life, Liberty & Triumph, and if the Disciple has consciously done the practices then they have been able to find the final door, that of Triumph.

In Astrology, Scorpio is the 8th House. This is the House of Death, and statistics prove that the majority of beings die when the constellation of Scorpio is acting. But Death & Life are intimately linked and depending on whether we can overcome the evil effects of Mars in Scorpio, we can thereby emerge triumphant in Life, attracting new Life and new vigor. The key is this. Throughout our whole body, a portion of Little Glands are distributed which are more or less large & small, each one of them is of a masculine or feminine character. These Little Glands (in their intimacy) are individual accumulators of Magnetic Forces with their respective currents, seeking in every instant for the masculine collision with the feminine and vice versa, as if they were in a constant exchange of positive & negative principles. This exchange (which is prolonged until a divine, sublime, state is reached) is nothing other than Love.

Magnetizing and the Divine Magnetization

The terrestrial current comes from the sexual parts (governed by Scorpio), which only has slight opposition in the knees and in the joints of the feet, before colliding and mixing itself with those heavenly currents which have gone through so many screens or filters until finally reaching the testicles and ovaries. Now we are looking after the great laboratory where the fate of everything is determined. All of Creation is governed by two forces, that from above (positive) and that from below (receptive). Based in Love, one repeats the same activity emitting and receiving, the two poles, represented here by the man (positive principle) and the women (receptive principle). There is an intimate secret, then, in the mental plane, through our action: the woman converts herself into the positive principle and the man converts himself into the receptive principle, this transformation transcends sex.

With ordinary Magnetism, the Magnetizer communicates magnetic currents to the subject and if the first has these magnetic forces developed then they are able to heal the second. The transmission of the magnetic current is ordinarily done via the hands or via the eyes, but it is necessary to say that there is no more powerful conductor than the virile member and the vulva, which are a 1000 times more powerful, a 1000 times superior to others as organs of reception.

If many people practice this, then they spread strength and success to all those who are put into commercial or social contact with them. But, in the act of sublime and Divine Magnetization, to which we are referring; both man and woman magnetize each other reciprocally, being one for the other as a musical instrument which (when being plucked) gives off or starts prodigious sounds of sweet and mystical harmony. The strings of this instrument are spread over the whole body and their principal buttons are the lips and the fingers, provided that absolute purity presides over the act, and this is what makes us Magicians in that supreme instant.

Obtain a good accumulation of forces at their boiling point, and say: "I am Strength, I am Strength, I can have everything I want", and then direct the Mind towards whatever you want to achieve. Let us repeat: we have the right to comfort, wealth, and power, provided that it is not to the detriment of others and, on the contrary, that it is to the benefit of others. The general utility is above the particular. Keep this secret, and work according to what your inner being advises you to do.
